SOUTH BRUNSWICK EARNS THE “HEALTHY TOWN” DESIGNATION FOR 2024

South Brunswick Township, Middlesex County, NJ (March 6) - South Brunswick has earned the “Healthy Town” designation for 2024 from the New Jersey Health Care Quality Institute.

After another successful program year, South Brunswick Township has received a Healthy Town designation for 2024. One of the standout programs from the year was the "Cram the Cruiser" event which creates a fun and interactive way for children to engage with law enforcement while also helping provide food to those in need in the community.

"I'm so proud that South Brunswick Township has achieved the highly distinguished Healthy Town designation for 2024, building upon our ongoing commitment to community health and wellness in which we received Healthy Town to Watch in 2023 and Healthy Town Up and Coming in 2022. South Brunswick has been an active participant in the MWC, and this recognition highlights our township's dedication to fostering programs that keep our residents healthy and thriving," said Mayor Charlie Carley. "The MWC has played a vital role in helping us enhance local initiatives that support the physical, mental, and overall well-being of our community. Whether it's our annual health and wellness events, educational programs, or continued investment in our parks and recreational facilities, our township remains committed to promoting a healthier future for all."
